Dear Zainnundin,

Greetings from MANAV Foundation!

Thank you so much for all your support with the printing of the document and for taking the time to ensure that everything with regards to the publication was smooth and successful.

Your understanding of how important this publication is was clearly reflected in your timely support, patience and expertise. Your understanding of how high the stakes were was immensely helpful especially during stressful intervals which usually precede events of this importance.

We truly appreciate your effort, coordination, and cooperation throughout the process and are grateful for your support as always,

With warm regards,
